Morning Message: "History or His-Story?"

Liturgist:

Organist/Pianist: Pat Ziegelmeier

Violinist: Amy Ashlock

Opening Prayer

Liturgist: Today is a day of remembrance.

All: It is a day to celebrate our loved ones who have died and those who have paid the ultimate price of freedom.

Liturgist: Today is a day of promise.

All: It is a day to celebrate our forebears, whose struggles and sacrifices sometimes seem too distant and foreign to us in a world of plenty.

Liturgist: Today is a day of hope.

All: It is a day in which we look both behind us in appreciation and forward. We look forward to the time when we are reunited with those who await us in the heavens.

Liturgist: On the weekend that unofficially begins summer, we gather under the steeple, at the foot of the cross, to give thanks to you and to remember the sacrifice you made so that gravesites are not where dead people are buried, but rather gathering places of where eternal life begins. May your Spirit that comforts us in times of grief pour over us, the living, so that we too, might live as people who are in Christ. We pray this in the name of the One who conquered the grave, Jesus Christ.

All: Amen

Scripture Reading: 2 Corinthians 1:3-7

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and the God of all consolation, who consoles us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to console those who are in any affliction with the consolation with which we ourselves are consoled by God. For just as the sufferings of Christ are abundant for us, so also our consolation is abundant through Christ. If we are being afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation; if we are being consoled, it is for your consolation, which you experience when you patiently endure the same sufferings that we are also suffering. Our hope for you is unshaken; for we know that as you share in our sufferings, so also you share in our consolation.

Adult Sunday School Class:

The Jesus Revolution: Learning from Christ's First Followers by Leith Anderson

Starts June 6 — Church Library

Journey through the book of Acts, discover the leaps of faith taken by the early church to spread the news of the miracles they'd witnessed and the message they'd received. Their devotion and perseverance challenges us to step out in faith and make a difference in Jesus' name. We can experience Jesus' presence and power as the early church did, and be part of the ongoing movement to change the world with his revolutionary message.

Let Melissa Brown (785-443-5425) know ASAP if a book is needed. Books are $17.
